

31st august 2019

Bretagne Classic 2019 / Newsletter n°26

 GrandPrixPlouay

RALLY | UHC

= CYCLING =

To discover Plouay

24th in the WorldTour standings, the american team will play the Grand Prix of Plouay - Lorient Agglomération - WNT Women Trophy with the main objective of gaining experience for the future. Comprising outsiders, this team will be expected to animate the start of the race.

Created under another name in 2013, this team has already passed through Plouay in 2014. This year Rally - UHC Cycling will present a workforce that has nothing in common with that of five years ago. Of the six riders entered, only one of them has had the opportunity to compete in the Grand Prix of Plouay - Lorient Agglomération - Trophy WNT Women. We understand, the american team will be there to gain experience by measuring themselves to the biggest teams of the Women's WorldTour.

To lead the Rally - UHC Cycling team, we note that the American team has called on its New Zealand Sports Director, Joanne Kيسانowski. She is no stranger to Plouay since she has already raced five times the Grand Prix between 2003 and 2014 with a beautiful 16th place finish in 2016. She will have an important role for an inexperienced collective.

Kristabel Doebel-Hickok as leader

Rally – UHC Cycling has presented its first rider list for Plouay under the direction of Joanne Kiesanowski.

81. Abigail Mickey (Usa, 29). Like most of her teammates, she will discover Plouay to live a beautiful experience. She will be there to support the best of his team or take the break.

82. Summer Moak (Usa, 20). The youngest member of the team continues her apprenticeship at the highest level in the world, coming to Plouay will be a great experience for her.

83. Sara Poidevin (Can, 23). 14th in the 2018 World Championship, this Canadian is one of the great hopes of her country. She can achieve a great performance for her discovery of the Grand Prix Plouay.

84. Sara Bergen (Can, 30). A customary with North American races on which she is often placed, the Canadian will discover Plouay.

85. Heidi Franz (Usa, 24). Recent 5th in Ploumagoar on the Tour of Belle Isle en Terre - Kreiz Breizh Elites Ladies, she will discover Plouay.

86. Kristabel Doebel-Hickok (Usa, 30). Very successful on the American circuit, she is the only member of her team to have already raced the Grand Prix of Plouay. 27th in 2015 and 49th in 2017, she will serve as guide and captain for her teammates.

The announced substitutes are Katherine Maine (Can), Gillian Ellsay (Can) and Emma White (Usa).

