GrandPrixPlouay

One of the strongest teams

5th in the world team ranking, the german formation will be one of the most awaited on the Grand Prix de Plouay - Lorient Agglomération - Trophy WNT Women. It will count in its ranks two of the big favorites within a collective of very high level.

Founded in 2008, the Canyon - Sram team already has nine participations in the Grand Prix de Plouay - Lorient Agglomération - Trophy WNT Women. Still counting among the most prominent teams, she has so far never managed to win the biggest cycling race in Brittany. On three occasions, the cyclists of the german team finished in second place : Luise Keller in 2008, Elena Cecchini in 2016 and Pauline Ferrand-Prévot in 2017. This time it will to win.

Without Pauline Ferrand-Prévot, mobilized on the Mountain Bike World Championships, Canyon - Sram will however present a good team with three women who have already managed to enter the top four at Plouay : Elena Cecchini, Tiffany Cromwell and Alena Amialiusik. The team led by Austin Barry will be one of the big favorites of the day.

Alena Amialiusik and Elena Cecchini as leaders

Canyon Sram Racing has presented its first rider list scheduled at Plouay under the direction of Austin Barry.

11. Alena Amialiusik (Blr, 30). 4th in 2013, 9th in 2014 and 10th in 2016, Belarusse has always been in the Top 10 at Plouay. 8th in Liège-Bastogne-Liège, she will once again be among the favorites for the victory.

12. Elena Cecchini (Ita, 27). 2nd in 2016, 4th in 2018, 5th in 2017, 7th in 2015 ... The Italian deserves to win the Grand Prix de Plouay. Knowing this race perfectly, she will be one of the big favorites for her eighth participation. The vice-champion of Europe is in good frome and will be there to win.
